

BLENDY

Omi Tahara, 2018

Omi Tahara weaves together an emotional relationship between people and objects through a delicate linear gesture. The enveloping line of Blendy balances the absence of thicknesses. Thin and light, Blendy has the ability to transform itself through colours, fabrics, and large plush cushions that make the seat comfortable and highly adaptable. The armchair is available to keep the sofa company.

DESCRIPTION

A new collection of sofas with two or more seats and armchair. A simple, modern and everlasting design characterised by the harmony between the strict line of the outer shell and the softness of the goose down cushions.

The back cushions are enhanced even more by optional loose cushions available in two sizes.

Cover in two possible versions: short in fabric, leather or velvet or with long front cover only in fabric.

"This collection is very clean, sleek and immediately able to communicate its origin. A mix of different cultures and ideas that once put together creates an original blend.

The final piece showcases the nice collaboration with the De Padova team and will appeal to the cross-cultural design community." O. Tahara
