

POET

Keiji Takeuchi, 2018

A luminous disc with a cylinder handle, that also provides support. A nomadic lamp, a beautiful object able to create different lighting atmospheres. All suggested in its name: Poet.

DESCRIPTION

Family of suspended and table lamps. A minimal source of light, warm and cold at the same time. Through an app it is possible to manage its intensity, color and power.

A disk in welded plate that houses a flat diffuser screen. A simple and minimal design that highlights its Japanese style. Available as pendant or floor lamp.

TECHNICAL FEATURES

Classification: Class 1

Supply voltage: 220/240V÷50/60 Hz (EU) - 100/120V÷50/60 Hz (USA)

Integrated power supply. Direct line voltage.

Light source: LED 25 w.

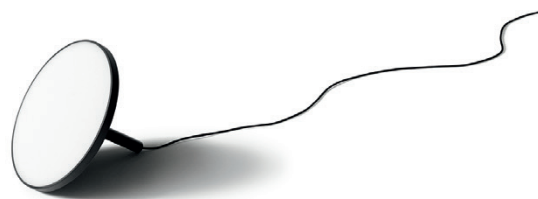

Energy class: A +

Color temperatures: dynamic white

Dimmer included. Structure in aluminium, coated in black epoxy polyester powder

Screen in opal white polycarbonate.

Lamp dimensions: d.40 - h.29 cm. (disk with screen - th.2,3 cm)

“One of the most exciting subjects in designing is definitely light because it awakens almost childlike emotions, linked to amazement and play. In my project I wanted to experiment and to allow everyone that uses the lamp to do the same. This light has to do with shadows and the creation of atmospheres, therefore Poet had to be a tool to make this happen. It should not be a static object, but mobile and active, easy to be moved and placed. Also on the floor so as to intercept objects and movement of people in his cone of light, and turn them into shadows on the wall. I’ve felt a bit like an artist, and so everyone can try to be the same, using projections to create magical and narrative moments.” K. Takeuchi