

NAME / Upper - kitchen boiserie

DESIGN / Piero Lissoni + CRS Boffi / 2018

INSPIRATION / Upper's DNA composition consists of offering a variety of solutions to transform a wall into a system of integrated containers and shelves. Available in modules and highly customisable, its design now features glass to highlight the geometries of its transparent profile, which is also emphasised by different points of lights.

DESCRIPTION / The Upper system is enriched with new solutions thanks to the insertion of frame closures with glass, applicable at will on the composition both in terminal and intermediate position. Covered with different materials, the system is now integrated with new containers and shelves of double depth creating three-dimensional effects on the wall.
